

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike-land and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their age, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

PROPOSALS

for publishing by subscription, a new work, entitled

THE TREASURE OF HEALTH;

OR

A complete collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, for the cure of all diseases, wounds and other accidents to which the human body is subject; with the method of preparing, and instructions for using, the necessary remedies.
Also, the best preservatives against the plague, small pox, and all other kinds of contagious diseases.—Discovered after much research and experience by the most skillful physicians in Europe, and employed with the greatest success; and unknown till the present time in the United States.

Carefully collected, by a Benevolent Society, and faithfully translated from the French, and other foreign languages.
And published for the benefit of humanity.
BY LEWIS MERLIN.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The work which is this day offered for public usefulness, ought not to be looked upon as those which a desire of gain bring forth every day among us. This is a rare and precious collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine; which the most skillful physicians have discovered after long researches, labor and experience. It is, without contradiction, the first of the kind that has ever appeared within the United States of America, and a treasure which every head of a family could not too much appreciate; as it points out the symptoms of several diseases, of which many persons are only acquainted with their names; 2d, the receipt of the quantity and quality of the drugs that are made use of; 3d, their preparations so carefully described and detailed that the least intelligent person cannot be mistaken; and finally the necessary doses and the manner of administering them. One may rest assured that all in this collection is easy to put into practice, the expense is trifling because all the simples and plants which compose the greatest part of the receipts it contains, may be found in the fields and in the gardens; in a word, that it affords the means of curing, in a short time, all the diseases and evils with which one may be addicted, and at a low expense.

It is to a benevolent society we are indebted for such a precious treasure.
Their whole good wish towards suffering humanity, induced that society to spare neither pains, care nor expense in obtaining from all parts of the globe, and to give in one and only collection, a valuable and complete selection of receipts for the cure of all diseases with which the human body is every day afflicted, which their renowned virtues, the repeated experience that has been made of them, even on patients who had been given up by their physicians, and the cures resulting from them, have caused them to be adopted as sovereign and infallible remedies.

Amongst the great number of diseases that have been cured by these inestimable secrets, we shall only name some of them, of which the foreign journals and American newspapers have borne the most authenticated testimony, such as apoplexy, asthma, bilious, windy and nephretic colic, consumption of lungs, debility, dysentery, diarrhoea, dropsy in the breast, in the brain, compound dropsy, anar-sarque or ascites, epilepsy, diseases of the eyes, intermittent, tertian, quar-tan, continual and inflammatory fevers, malignant, spotted and scarlet fevers, hives (so fatal to children), inflammation of the bowels, of the liver and lungs, gangrene, itch, jaundice, fits, hooping-cough, lethargy, leprosy, rheumatism, pulmonary, scurvy, swellings, sore throat, worms, tape-worm, complaints of the bowels, looseness or bloody flux, folly or madness originated after a sequel of disease, or through an intemperate use of spirituous liquors, cold and sciatic gouts, gravels, gonorrhoea, hydrophobia, bite of venomous animals, hemorrhage, palpitation of the heart, stone, &c. &c.

This precious collection contains likewise a great number of receipts for preparing several kinds of balsams, ointment or salves, with the effects of which are so surprising, that they cure in a very short time, the cancers, without the assistance of any operation; the king's evil, tetter or ring's worm, wens; all sorts of cuts, wounds, however large and deep they may be, both inward and outward hemorrhoids, all pains and swellings arising from rheumatism, all kinds of burns, all cataracts of the eyes, even those that deprive of the sight; all sores that come on women's breasts; all kinds of sore legs and ulcers, however old they may be; chancre, bu-boes, and other venereal disorders; they join the nerves again, when they have been cut or broken in any manner whatever; they strengthen weak nerves and prevent the palsy whenever one is threatened with it; they draw out broken bones and all other foreign bodies that may be in sores or wounds; in short, these ointments or salves do possess such a virtue against the gangrene, that many persons being at the point of having their legs, hands or fingers cut off, have been entirely cured by the application of these ointments alone.

In this interesting work will be also found the inestimable receipt of the grand preventives against the plague, pestilential, spotted and other fevers, small pox, and all kinds of contagious diseases; their preparations with the manner of making use of them both inwardly and outwardly, as well to preserve ourselves against the contagion as to be cured whenever one is afflicted with them; and wonderful and most valuable secrets in medicine —always employed with success, and never failed to cure in epidemic and contagious diseases, and unknown to the present time in the United States of America.

In short, the famous and renowned syrup of long life, or the great preserver of health, whose extraordinary virtues have drawn the attention of a great number of physicians, although the desire of gain has endeavored to counterfeit or imitate it, but always without success. That receipt so very simple, so very easy to prepare, and of a good taste, was given by an old gentleman of one hundred and thirty-two years of age, who began to make use of it at the age of 60 without his having ever experienced the least inconvenience. The good effects which this simple receipt has always produced on the persons who have made use of it are so well known that no more need to be said on that subject; and although this work contains a great number more of other receipts and other matters not less interesting for the human body, we shall not dwell any longer on the benefits arising to the public out of this precious collection; because it is only by putting what is taught in it into practice, that the public will be convinced of the truth that there is no quackery nor deception in all that has been said, but many truths which could not be too much appreciated.

We recommend this work to heads of families, more particularly to those who reside in the country, who owing to their situation are often deprived of medical assistance in cases of the most urgent necessity; it is likewise of the greatest utility to those who through their profession are obliged to visit the sick; as also to the ministers and pastors of congregations, who in their situation are likewise obliged to afford relief to suffering humanity; in short, it could not be too much recommended to captains, masters of vessels, seafaring men and other travellers, who frequent warm climates, as well as to those persons who have a desire to preserve their own health; so much the more, as (we repeat it again) that all therein contained is easy to put in practice, and the expense is small.

As the publication of this work is not an object of a pecuniary speculation, but the welfare of humanity generally, we have endeavored, as well as the expense has permitted, to fix the price of subscription as low as possible, in order that the poor as well as the rich may be able to obtain it, and experience its good effects principally in warm seasons, and in cases of contagious diseases.

CONDITIONS.

To render this work more portable, and comply with the wishes of many persons, it will form a large volume in 12mo. to be printed on good paper and good type, and delivered neatly bound and lettered to subscribers at 150 cents, to non-subscribers, the price will be enhanced to two dollars, and the profit arising from it will be for the benefit of the poor.

As soon as the subscription will be sufficient to defray the expense of printing, the work will be put

FOR THE GAZETTE.

OR PRESENTING ME A TRESS.

I well remember when this braid Upon a lovely forehead play'd,
And grac'd the auburn clustre That taste and nature had array'd To hang their fascinating shade Above her eye of lustre—

Just like the clouds that oft are driven Along the western sky of even To deck the brow of night; Ting'd with prismatic colors seven,
To hang above the eye of Heaven,
And revel in its light.

ANOTHER.

Glossy tress, thou once wast seen Reposing on a brow serene, Upon whose frownless tablet mild, Youth, innocence and virtue smil'd—
And cheerfulness, and graceful ease, There sat to charm and laugh'd to please:
O what a happy throne hadst thou.
When dancing on that gaisome brow!

ORLANDO.

Mr. Editor,

I send you for publication, the following exquisite morceau from the pen of Burke, being a description of the unfortunate Marie Antoinette of France, to be found in his reflections on the French Revolution. Who can but lament the untimely end of so beautiful and virtuous a queen as is here described.

ROMEO.

"It is now sixteen or seventeen years since I saw the Queen of France, then the Dauphiness, at Versailles; and surely never lighted on this orb, which she hardly seem'd to touch, a more delightful vision. I saw her just above the horizon, decorating and cheering the elevated sphere she just began to move in—glittering like the morning star, full of life and splendor, and joy.
Oh! what a revolution; and what a heart must I have, to contemplate without emotion, that elevation and that fall! Little did I dream that, when she added titles of veneration, to those of enthusiasm, distant, respectful love, that she should ever be obliged to carry the sharp antidote against disgrace, concealed in that bosom: little did I dream that I should have lived to see such disasters fallen upon her in a nation of gallant men, in a nation of men of honor and of cavaliers. I thought ten thousand swords must have leaped from their scabbards to avenge even a look that threaten'd her with insult. But the age of chivalry is gone—that of sophisters, economists, and calculators, has succeeded; and the glory of Europe is extinguish'd for ever.— Never, never more shall we behold that generous loyalty to rank and sex, that proud submission, that dignified obedience, that subordination of the heart, which kept alive, even in servitude itself, the spirit of an exalted freedom. The unbought grace of life, the cheap defence of nations, the nurse of manly sentiment and heroic enterprise is gone! It is gone: that sensibility of principle, that chastity of humor, which felt a stain like a wound, which inspired courage whilst it mitigated ferocity, which ennobled whatever it touched, and under which vice itself lost half its evil, by losing all its grossness."

Some masons, in making the drain of a house in Paris, found under the threshold of a door, a piece of crystal, surmounted by a crust of amethyst, the whole weighing nearly 80 pounds. The stone lay four days in the street, under a heap of gravel, without any one taking the least notice of it.— A glazier, who makes Kaleidoscopes, bought it for two francs, without knowing what it was; but a jeweller having seen it, offered him 1000 francs for it. The glazier immediately returned it to its owner, the person to whom the house belonged in which it was found.

The human mind is originally an unsoiled field, prepared for the reception of any crop; and it those to whom the culture of it belongs, neglect to sow it with good grain, it will speedily be covered with tares.

Young people may be admonished and reproved for improper and unbecoming behaviour, but still their manners will be chiefly formed from the manners of those with whom they live and associate. Children in particular, must be taught principle from example, because they understand better, and are more influenced by what they hear.

Women are like books—malice and envy will easily lead you to the detection of their faults.

O! wonder!
How many goodly creatures are there here!
How beauteous mankind is! O brave new world,
That has such people in it!

SHAKESPEARE.

We should be greatly surprised to hear that there was one of our subscribers who failed to receive with pleasure a continuation of the accounts given of this extraordinary people—those most amiable, and we do believe, most happy of the children of Adam. The general concurrence in the testimony of the two gentlemen who have published books on the subject, places the veracity and accuracy of the picture of the character and manners of the Loo-Chooms beyond the reach of controversy or suspicion. After the ships were brought to an anchor they came on board in great numbers; and their conduct soon impressed the Englishmen with the following impressions respecting the deportment and appearance of the higher classes, which is copied from the account given by captain Hall:

"Their manners are remarkably gentle and unassuming. They are observant, and that without curiosity; but they require encouragement to induce them to come forward, being restrained it would seem, by a gentle self-denial, from gratifying curiosity, lest it might be thought intrusive.— Their dress is singularly graceful: it consists of a loose flowing robe, with very wide sleeves, tied round the middle by a very loose belt or girdle made of wrought silk, a yellow cylindrical cap, and a neat straw sandal, over a short cotton boot or stocking. Two of the chiefs wore light yellow robes; the other dark blue, streaked with white, all of cotton. The cap is flat at top. They all carry fans, which they stick in their girdles when not in use; and each person has a short tobacco pipe in a small bag, hanging along with the pouch, at the girdle."

George H. Harman was executed at Na-chez, on the 13th ult. for slave-stealing.

On Thursday, 13th inst. Lawrence Pienovi, who was convicted the preceding day in the Mayor's court, for an assault upon his wife, and biting off her nose, was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years.

A gentleman who has recently visited the western and southern country, gives a very flattering account of the progress of civilization among the Indians, especially the Cherokees. Several schools established among them were in the most flourishing condition, especially those on the Lancaster plan. The boys are taught to read and write, and the agricultural arts; and the girls reading and writing, the use of the needle, spinning, knitting, and household business. [N. York Daily Advertiser.

The expedition for the Sea-Monster has returned. They saw nothing like the wonder they sought. They brought home with them the Lophius Piscatorius, often called the Sea-Devil, but he is no stranger. We are much indebted to those citizens for their exertions to put into our power the wonder of nature which has so long provoked public curiosity. [Salem Register.

The Franklin Gazette states that the Indians inhabiting the country between Georgia and the Mississippi could bring into the field 11,000 warriors—but the jealousies existing among them will effectually prevent their ever forming a coalition, until civilization shall have taught them the benefits of union and concert. [Ibid.

Robert Wright, for many years a member of Congress from Maryland, has again offered himself a candidate to serve his district in the house of representatives.

The Montreal Herald of the 8th instant, states, that the steam-boat "Car of Commerce," arrived at Montreal on the preceding morning from Quebec, having on board thirteen hundred and eighty settlers. "We believe (says the Herald) this is by far the greatest number that was ever carried on the river at one trip. On this short voyage five births took place." [N. Y. Com. Adv.

The Cincinnati Inquirer mentions that a number of our most distinguished military officers design, during the next session of congress, to retire from the public service.
Among the number are general Jackson, colonel Swift, lt. colonel Armistead, major McKee; major Gratiot and captain Totten, of the engineer corps; captain Richardson of the ordnance; captain A. Gray of the first regiment of infantry; and captain O'- Fallon of the rifle regiment.

A rock, on which there is but six feet of water at low tide, has been for a long time an object of attention to vessels entering the harbor: it is situated between Sands' Point and Hart Island, opposite Cow Bay.
Near this rock there is 11 fathoms water, and from the depth navigators do not apprehend any danger. In order to take the necessary precaution, captain Cabonne, of the revenue cutter, has anchored a spar buoy near the rock, and captains of vessels will therefore take notice, and those navigating small craft are cautioned against removing said buoy, as its continuance on that spot will render the rock familiar, and thereby prevent danger. We understand that a buoy is also wanted on the reef called the Governor's Table, south-west of Blackwell's Island. [N. York Advocate.

We learn that Mr. Pepin, of the Circus, has appropriated the proceeds of an evening's entertainment for the benefit of the institution for instructing the deaf and dumb in this city. This act of generosity reflects the greatest honor on Mr. Pepin, and it is no trifling compliment to his philanthropy and discernment that he has made this valuable and benevolent institution the object of his patronage. [Ibid.

We have seen and conversed with a phantom from St. Paul's, who informs us that the rot is committing terrible ravages in the cotton. Scarcely a single old pod escapes.
He has left with us a number of the damaged pods in every stage of rot. Some in their incipient state seem to be slightly punctured by some insect; the poison soon spreads, and generally destroys the whole pod. It is remarkable that no other pods are seized with the rot but those which are just ready to blow. From a remark made by the gentleman who furnished us with this information, we are induced to think that it is produced by the poisonous touch of some insect. He says that it frequently happens that the part of the pod not punc-tured will mature and blow.

[Charleston Patriot, August 11.

Doctor Thomas Wharton of this place, has confined in a wire cage two live Rattle Snakes, a male and female—the male has nine rattles, the female seven—the male black, the female of a yellowish cast; the male was put in the cage on the 5th inst.
it was quite cross on the first day—on the 6th the female was put in and appeared quite passive, but in a few minutes showed her anger in biting a mouse that was put in soon after her; the little creature's fate was anticipated, it died in less than a minute; on the 7th a large rat was put in with them, it did not appear in the least daunted, but made a most spirited attack upon the rattle of the male, and bit off one half of it, at this time it received a bite from the female which enraged it more, and it made a second attack upon the male and bit off the balance of the rattle entire—while in this act it received two bites from the male, and was immediately taken out and put in a wire trap to observe what effect the bites would have on it, and to the astonishment of all who witnessed the scene it sustained no injury.—The Snakes now appear quite harmless. The Doctor (we believe) intends presenting them to the proprietor of the Alexandria Museum.

A ROBBER CAUGHT.

The French schr La Florestine arrived here on the 21st ult. from Martinique, and brought 2000 dollars in specie. As it was after sun down when she anchored in our harbor, it was thought best to let the specie remain on board for the night. Next morning, however, it was found that the whole of the money had vanished, and that the mate whose name was John Garonde, had also become invisible. It was not doubted that the said Garonde and the specie had made their exit simultaneously, and it was strongly suspected that two Frenchmen of this town who reside in Little Water-street, (both cronies of his) were accomplices in the robbery. The evidence against them, however, was not satisfactory enough to commit them upon, and Garonde was supposed to have made off with the booty.— But on Tuesday night last, about 10 o'clock, he and three other Frenchmen (including the two before alluded to) were accidentally seen to enter the house of one Joseph, a petty shop keeper in Portsmouth, by a gentleman of that town, who presently collected a large party of citizens, and conducted them to the spot. They surrounded the house and secured two of them, but Garonde, the principal rogue, and another named Antoine, were missing. A strict search throughout the house was made for them, but without success. In a back room lay an ill looking fellow on a mattress which was spread on the floor. He was made to rise, and while one of the magistrates who came with the guard was examining him, one of the party carelessly rolled over the mattress with his foot, when to the surprise of all present, there appeared a small trap door in the floor, just large enough to admit a man through it. One of the citizens immediately descended through it into a cellar nearly full of water, and with the help of a candle presently found the culprit Garonde, who with the other two were then sent to jail. Antoine, it was conjectured, had fled over to Norfolk, where he resides.
Upwards of 600 dollars in gold and silver were found upon Garonde, quitted in a kind of sash, and wrapped round his body. He had a horse and chair at the door, and was that night to have set off for Petersburg, having left 100 dollars with the person from whom he hired them, by way of a pledge for their return. About 600 dollars more were found the next day in the possession of Antoine, and he was sent to keep his worthy friends company in the jail at Portsmouth. The whole sum recovered is between 15 and 1400 dollars.

From the New-York Merc. Adv. August 15.
The brig Orleans, from New-Orleans, brought accounts to the 21st ult. We have been favoured with the loan of a file of papers to that date inclusive, from which we have copied the following and all the marine intelligence they contain. The weather was intensely hot at N. Orleans, but the city continued healthy.

New-Orleans, July 17.

It will be recollected that the newspapers have already given currency to a report that the governor of Cuba had dispatched a frigate of 38 guns, and two smaller vessels in pursuit of Com. Aury's squadron. By a vessel which has arrived in this port, we learn that the two squadrons met near the coast of Terra Firma, that Aury not being able to escape from the frigate in consequence of her superior sailing, determined to carry her by boarding, which he effected, and in a few hours afterwards died on board the captured vessel of wounds received in the contest. The frigate is now cruising off Carthagen under the independent flag. [Friend of the Laws.

From the Portland Gazette.

It is mentioned in the papers abroad that Mr. Dela, of this town, was one of the robbers of the bank.—This is not true—for Rolfe uniformly declared that only two persons, himself and Manley, were concerned or knew of the business. In justice to Mr.
Dela, we hope that the error respecting his being implicated, will be corrected.

Since the investigation of the robbery in this town has been closed, we understand that information has been received, that the key used in unlocking the bank vault, was made in Boston, by Manley's request, who told the blacksmith that he had a lock which wanted a key, and if he could get one he could dispose of it for 25 dollars.

The old adage "that it is an ill wind that blows no one any good" has been verified in the events of the last week, in the case of Mr. Amos Libby of Scarborough, who, in consequence of learning that some of the Directors, together with Rolfe, had been looking for the money, was induced to search the next morning; and when those who went with Manley on Thursday morning had got near the spot where the money was actually secreted, he by good luck discovered the bag that contained it. In appropriating the reward for the recovery of the money, 3,500 dollars were adjudged and paid to Mr. Libby and his two sons.

LETTERS FROM ASIA.

Extract from a series of letters, written by stantinople, in a Grecian vessel. [Boston Patriot.

[No. 3.]

The wind proving fair, we left the harbor of Melos, and stood through the Grecian Islands on our way to Smyrna.

Nothing can exceed the serenity of the Aegean sea during the summer; and but one circumstance can be considered unpleasant in crossing it—the frequent calms that prevail during the day—they are however, almost constantly succeeded by refreshing breezes through the night.

From the moment you enter this sea, the mind is continually engrossed by reflecting on the many events of past ages, which have been handed down to latter generations by the pen of the historian and poet; and the interest excited is doubly enhanced by having those islands continually present, whence originated a great portion of the arts and sciences of the present time.

The sun glared on the white columns of the temple of Minerva on Cape Collona—a spot rendered immortal by Falconer, in his beautiful poem of the Shipwreck, which has probably excited more universal admiration, even among those unacquainted with nautical terms, than any other in the English language; you can therefore, in some degree, fancy what impression it made on my mind—having Falconer's St.
George, and the fatal spot before me, and having suffered the horrors of shipwreck, after making the ocean my home for years.

During the night, we passed the Islands of Siphno, Pazos, Haxia and Zyra, and in the morning perceived Tino and Andro, with the small Island of Delos, a few miles ahead—the breeze becoming favorable, we soon had an opportunity of viewing the beautiful villages with which the former, on one side, is covered.

Delos a spot familiar to the mind of the man of taste, from its having given birth to Diana and Apollo, is the most wretched of all the cluster of islands forming the Archipelago.—This sacred place, where in past ages no individual was suffered to view for the first time the light of heaven, or permitted to draw the expiring breath, and where millions worshipped at the shrine of Diana and the God of Light—is now an uninhabited, sterile rock, covered with innumerable fragments of ruins, and only giving protection to a horde of pirates who occasionally infest those seas.

The rapid progress of our vessel left but little time to examine these islands, and the breeze was too favourable to permit our anchoring. As they faded from our view, we beheld Nioaria, Samos and Scio, and towards night the coast of Asia.

The unhappy prejudices of the Christian world against the professors of Mahomet's creed, which had been instilled into my mind, led me to fear a thousand dangers where none existed. On the African shores, from Cape Spartel to the bay of Tunis, and in fact to the coast of Assyria, shipwreck would be attended by death or slavery; but when the seaman approaches that part of Asia inhabited by Turks, he may with safety bury all alarm, and rest satisfied, that although he is not near a Christian country, still he will find among the inhabitants all the virtues possessed by Christians, with but few of their vices.

By Divine Permission, the Rev. O. B. Brown will preach in the Baptist Meeting-house this evening, at Diels.

In this town, yesterday morning, after a short illness, Mr. JOHN VIOLETT, in the 62d year of his age. But a few days since, he was in perfect health, and instructed by his counsel a numerous family: they can never forget his worth—nor will society soon recover from the loss it has sustained in this deprivation of one of its most valuable members.

The friends and acquaintance of the deceased are invited to attend his funeral from his late residence in King-street, to the Methodist burial ground, this morning, at 10 o'clock.

Exchange & Broker's Office, Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS, At his office, next door below Crawford's Tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits of the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

He is a very submissive orderly fellow.—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trousers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys and papers he may have on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia.

THE subscriber offers for sale a TRACT of 450 acres, being part of the tract whereon he resides, in Fauquier county, Va. More than one-third of this Farm is in timber, and is one of the richest quality. He would also dispose of a lot of 50 acres, the whole of which is in timber, and is first rate tobacco and meadow land. On this lot has been erected a well built saw mill, contiguous to which at the confluence of Broad and Mill runs is a most valuable site for a merchant mill. No property is better worth the attention of a person wishing to engage in such business. For Sale.

A VALUABLE FARM, containing acres of land, the greater part of which is in timber, and adjoining the land of Charles Thiff and Edmund J. Lee. Esq. and extends to the road from Leesburg to the mill lately known as Miller's Mill, on Goose Creek, and not more than three quarters of a mile from the turnpike road now making. The timbered land will be laid off into 10 or 15 acre lots, reserving a sufficient quantity for the land now cleared and in cultivation. There are fifteen or twenty negroes residing on the farm that may be purchased with it if wanted.

BILL IN CHANCERY.

Robert Perry versus

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition; so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious reality—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles, so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fecid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAIN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an intangible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
